Re: Docket # 11-65

Members of the Commission:

I run a general contracting company in Lawrence, Kansas, and with much of our business taking place in smaller and rural communities in our state, my employees are constantly "on the go." As such, we rely on mobile communications to stay connected and to conduct our business.

To help businesses like ours succeed, I strongly urge you to approve the proposed merger of AT&T and T-Mobile. This merger would extend access to high-speed advanced mobile technology to over 97% of the country and would have the most significant impact in rural communities, such as those where we work. Access to AT&T's 4G LTE technology would help our employees work more effectively and efficiently by keeping them connected wherever they are.

This merger would also result in billions of dollars of private investment by AT&T to build out its network nationwide, creating new jobs in many rural areas that are in great need of an economic boost.

On behalf of smaller businesses like mine and the rural communities in which we work, I ask for your support of the merger between AT&T and T-Mobile.

Sincerely,
